The Priest's Corner

No Dirt in the Sky, No Bread in the Basket

When I was growing up in the 1940's outside of Pittsburgh, those who worked downtown had to take two white shirts to work: by noon their collars were black from pollution. As a youngster in the 1950's I watched my Mom sweep the porch and wash the window sills on a daily basis: we lived on a hill above two power plants that spewed pollution from burning coal. As a young priest in the 70's I served two steel mill towns whose coke plant stacks blew out pollution on a daily basis, so much so that I had to turn on windshield wipers to get the soot off the windows.

Few citizens complained: "No dirt in the sky, no bread in the basket" they said. And they were right. They also knew that the air they were breathing was not healthy. They – individuals, government, industry – reluctantly got together and cleaned up the air as best they could. No longer would street lights need to be turned on at 3:00 or two shirts taken to work. But it took time because the environment was not on the front page back then; bread in the basket was.

And it still is. Almost every area of the country, the world, in fact, has a recognized environmental problem, in fact, several problems. But, of course, the solutions tend to take bread out of too many baskets. And so they are fought and delayed and railed against, as, sadly, they always have been.

The solutions today are no less difficult than they were forty, fifty, sixty, seventy years ago. The difference today, I believe, is that we have become more conscious of the fact that we have been called to be stewards of God's creation, responsible for the maintenance of this planet. The Genesis story is a reminder that everything God created is good – and will always be and that as the highest creatures of God's creation we are ultimately responsible for keeping the good good.

As with peace or love or joy, as with all of life, it all begins with each one of us individually. I cannot clean up the world and neither can you. But I can keep my corner of the world clean. I can waste less, want less, even need less. Sacrifice is always involved. But as the word sacrifice reminds us, to sacrifice means to make sacred, make holy: we understand the holiness of creation as we keep it holy. But, as we very well know, sacrifice is never easy. That is why it tends to have an adverse connotation rather than a positive one.

When we use less, demand less, certainly waste less, we leave more for those who already have less than they need and we leave something for our children and their children. What we discover in the process is that we can have both no dirt in the air as well as bread in the basket – and the air will smell better and the bread will be fresher and will taste better because we can smell it better, and there will be enough for all – more than enough, as a matter of fact!

Goin' Fishin'.

This week's lesson is about Jesus fishing for disciples, just like you might play the game Go Fish. In Go Fish, you ask for cards you want to make a match. Jesus is also trying to match up people to the work they needed to do. Jesus cast his net, just like a fisherman, and found those who would drop everything and join him.

If you remember a couple of years ago, we "went fishing" in church. Pastor Julie made paper fish with everyone's name on it and we had fishing poles and just like Jesus went fishing for disciples, we went fishing in church to see who would help Jesus do God's work around St. Brendan's. And everyone's name was caught and what we learned was all of us are called to Jesus' disciples. So, who were the original twelve disciples? Kind of easy, there is a song to help remember their names. (this song is to the tune – Yes Jesus Loves Me)

Jesus called them one by one,
Peter, Andrew, James and John,
Next, came Philip, Thomas too,
Matthew and Bartholomew.

Yes, Jesus called them,
Yes, Jesus called them,
Yes, Jesus called them,
He called them one by one.

James the one they called the less,
Simon, also Thaddeus,
Twelfth apostle Judas made,
Jesus was by him betrayed.

Matthias then took Judas' place,
To preach to men of every race,
Paul three preaching trips did make,
And went to Rome for Jesus' sake.

Why do we say Jesus was fishing for disciples? Because one day Jesus was standing by the sea of Galilee. He saw some fishermen nearby who were cleaning and mending their nets, so he climbed into one of their boats. He asked one of the men to row out into the sea a little way. Jesus stood in the boat teaching the people.

When he had finished teaching, Jesus said, "Put the boat further out into the deep water and let down your nets to catch some fish." The fisherman said, "We've been fishing all night long and haven't caught a thing, but if you say so, we will let down the nets one more time."

An amazing thing happened! When they started pulling the nets up, there were so many fish that the nets began to break. As they pulled the fish into the boat, there were so many fish that the boat was beginning to sink. When the fishermen saw this, they were astonished and even a bit frightened. Jesus said, "Don't be afraid; from now on you will fish for people."

On that day, they pulled their nets onto the shore, left everything, and followed Jesus. From that day on, these fishermen started fishing for people and brought many into God's kingdom.

Peace,

For the Month of February, the North Hill Food Bank is particularly in need of dry spaghetti, noodles, 14 oz. cans of tomato sauce, and Sloppy Joes or Manwich. As always, they will gladly accept any other non-perishable food items.

Note: The food banks do not accept anything in glass jars. Please do not leave any expired items.

Update on St. Brendan's Inquirers Group: The group of Brendanites who joined Fr. Regis and Darrell for six weeks of conversations about Episcopal beliefs and practices in November and December has resumed those conversations in the new year. The Inquirers Group meets every other Tuesday evening from 6:30 – 7:30 via Zoom and uses chapters from Walk in Love – Episcopal Beliefs and Practices to guide discussions. Notes and questions from assigned chapters are published with the Zoom link in advance, so it isn't necessary to read the assigned chapters to participate fully in the conversations. The schedule for upcoming meetings is Feb. 8, Feb. 22, Mar. 8, Mar. 22.

Everyone is welcome to join these conversations as we explore together what it means to live the Christian life in the Episcopal and Anglican traditions. If you would like to join these conversations, call or text Darrell at 412-337-3041 or email johnsdj31@verizon.net.

A Social Justice volunteer opportunity. Do you have a few hours on a Saturday morning to join a team of St Brendan volunteers to pack lunches for delivery to Neighborhood Resilience Project? Our Justice Ministry has partnered with St Paul's United Methodist Church to deliver 240 lunches monthly to this worthwhile organization. St Brendan's has agreed to do this in our church on Saturday March 12. Sam's Club has donated a major portion of the items and we supply the rest, and our volunteer power.

Please join me and others on Saturday March 12 at 8:30 am to do this work.

Contact Ginny Volponi 412-491-8130 or ginny4045@gmail.com to sign up. If this Saturday doesn't fit your schedule and you are interested in future dates, please let Ginny know.

The mission of Neighborhood Resilience Project Creating resilient healing and healthy communities. One block at a time.

Please Consider volunteering to be our Memorial Garden Coordinator. Just outside the Chapel doors, you will find our Memorial Garden, in which parishioners are welcome to arrange for their cremains to be interred. Maintaining the Garden (mowing, trimming, etc.), working with potential purchasers, and ultimately managing interments fall to a small committee for which we are seeking a Coordinator to succeed Bill Spoonhoward and Dan Moore. The maintenance work is seasonal, while other functions may occur at any time.

CRIES Advocacy

CRIES Advocacy, (Christian Response In Emergency Situations), meets monthly on the third Sunday in the library after the 10:00 a.m. service where they determine the distribution of St. Brendan's 10% tithe of our pledged income. This week we are praying for the work of Bethlehem Haven, an emergency shelter for women in Pittsburgh and The Greater Pittsburgh Literacy Council, who help create better lives through learning.

Book Club News: Join us at our next meeting via Zoom on Thursday, February 3rd at 7 p.m. when we discuss "Still Life" by Louise Penny. When a beloved, retired schoolteacher is found dead in the woods, the locals are certain that it was a tragic hunting accident. However, Chief Inspector Armand Gamache and his team uncover dark secrets shadowing this usually peaceful village. Come and unravel the truth in this award-winning tale! Please feel free to contact Chris Botti at shadypatch@msn.com to obtain the Zoom log in info. Thanks!

Animal Friends is always in need of blankets and bath towels for their sheltered animals. If you have some that you would like to donate to, there is a bin outside the front door to the entrance of the church for the collection.

Next Forum: Thursday, February 17 at 7:00, via zoom Topic: Racism in Mass Incarceration

This Forum addresses how slavery has evolved, how laws like the 13th Amendment have helped this process, and how this applies in Pennsylvania today.

Speakers are from Straight Talk, a non-profit which emerged from the movements to abolish death by incarceration (DBI) as well as solitary confinement in Pennsylvania. Their mission is to restore justice by building a statewide decarceration movement across Pennsylvania -- and dismantle institutions of state violence.

Speakers are:

-- David Garlock, who is currently PA state organizer for Straight Ahead and is a criminal justice reform advocate

-- Jennifer Black, central PA community organizer for Straight Ahead, who comes from a background of both activism and academia.

To register for this important Forum, email: office@trinitywexford.org.

St. Brendan's Football Pool is now full. It will be posted early next week. Thank you and good luck!
